Hula Preservation Society has partnered with BYU-Hawaii Archive to ensure the preservation of rare footage from the 1980’s Nā Mākua Mahalo ‘Ia award series. Concerts were held on the college campus and honored prominent hula greats, musicians, and practitioners, key figures who worked to preserve and perpetuate Hawaiian cultural knowledge. These cherished elders were captured on video dancing, singing, and sharing their insights from a lifetime as Hawaiian entertainers and educators. Please join us as we share these one-of-a-kind moving images and hear from these remarkable people who dedicated their lives to Hawaii.

Hula Preservation Society was established in 2000 as a non-profit dedicated to documenting and sharing the amazing life stories of our kūpuna hula. We seek to preserve and perpetuate the legacies of these elders, so as to inspire and educate others in the authentic culture of Hawai‘i.
